

CONDEMNED NEGRO TAKEN TO PRISON

On August 27 He Will Go to Electric Chair for Petersburg Murder.

CITY COMMITTEE MEETS

Election Judges Chosen and Plans Perfected for Next Week's Primary.

The Times-Dispatch Bureau, 100 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., July 30.

William Wise, negro, recently convicted in the Hastings Court of this city of the murder of Thomas Walker, and sentenced to death in the electric chair on August 27, was taken over to the penitentiary today, there to await his doom. The unfortunate man was in a deplorably weak condition when taken into custody by the penitentiary guard, probably due to mental suffering on account of his death sentence. Wise declared after his conviction that "they were going to kill the wrong man," and he still maintains that he was only an accomplice in the murder. The man who was named as the principal in the crime was tried and acquitted some time ago.

Wise has a wife living in Richmond, and it was to that city that he fled after committing the murder. Thomas Walker was killed on the night of April 15 in a lonely spot in the southern section of the city. His throat was cut and he bled to death, and robbery was the motive.

The guard also took over to the penitentiary today a negro named James Hicks, who had been convicted of the larceny of $135 belonging to Charles Dabney, colored, and sentenced to two years' imprisonment, with labor on the public roads.

Meeting of Democratic Committee. A meeting of the Democratic City Central Committee was held last night to complete arrangements for the State primary election on August 5. Samuel W. Zimmer, being the only person who had complied with the requirements of the primary as a candidate for the House of Delegates, was declared the Democratic nominee for that position. The committee then appointed judges of election to serve at the primary, as follows:

First Ward—Camp Campbell, J. M. Saunders and W. A. Frank. Second Ward—W. D. Morris, A. S. Reinach and C. S. Russell. Third Ward—S. A. Gentry, E. Gill Hinton and S. Floyd Johnson. Fourth Ward—John D. Ragland, Thomas E. Proctor and W. R. Uzzell. Fifth Ward—A. J. Saunders, R. C. Jones and W. A. Baxley.

Sixth Ward—E. L. Hargrave, George F. Newsum and Joseph T. Carter. Contest Ended. The Board of Overseers of the Poor met last evening, and after a number of ballots ended the contest for the position of Physician in Charge of the City Hospital. The incumbent, Dr. J. E. Smith, was re-elected. There were three candidates for the place, and the board at its first meeting took every ballot without effecting a choice. Every ballot showed six votes for Dr. Smith and three each for the two opposing candidates. The seventh ballot, at the second meeting last evening, resulted in the election of Dr. Smith.

Personal and Otherwise. It is stated that the matter of the two Republican city organizations will be referred to the State Executive Committee of the party, for decision as to which shall be recognized as regular.

J. P. Blankenship, Ettrick's only police officer, has given notice of his intention to resign that office on account of ill health. Application will be made to the county court for the appointment of another officer. The Almonster City Sergeant, Evans, had all of his prisoners moved into the new city jail today, where the quarters are much more comfortable and secure than those of the temporary structure on South Street, which has been in use for months.

Waynesville, Greenesville counties, forming one legislative district, have six candidates for the House of Delegates. Prince George and Surry counties, forming another district, have three candidates for the House. Dinwiddie county has only one.

Judge Samuel Williams, of Wytheville, is a candidate for Attorney General, was a visitor at the meeting of the Democratic City Committee last night. The judge has a great many friends in Petersburg.

ed for murder in Sussex county. He was arrested on a charge of larceny, and it was afterwards discovered that he was a fugitive from justice in Virginia. It is alleged that Urquhart was admitted to bail in the sum of $500 in Sussex, but that he jumped his bail bond and left the State. Miss Ethel Magee, of Lynchburg, is the guest of Mrs. M. J. Rahilly, on Guarantee Street. A P. Hill Camp of Confederate Veterans assembled this evening on Bank Street and had a fine group picture taken, to be preserved.

WILDLY CHEERED, WRIGHTS SET NEW FLYING RECORDS

It passed over the diverse and heavily wooded country in the distance. Soon it was a mere speck against the pearl sky above the horizon.

Suddenly the speck was lost to view, and as the seconds passed a silence grew upon the crowd, a silence that spoke of deep concern. Wilbur Wright, standing with leveled glasses beside his sister, strained his gaze in an effort to catch sight of the aeroplane when it should rise again above the skyline. Seconds seemed minutes, and as the interval became seemingly alarming, great beads of sweat stood upon his brow, and his agitation was evident.

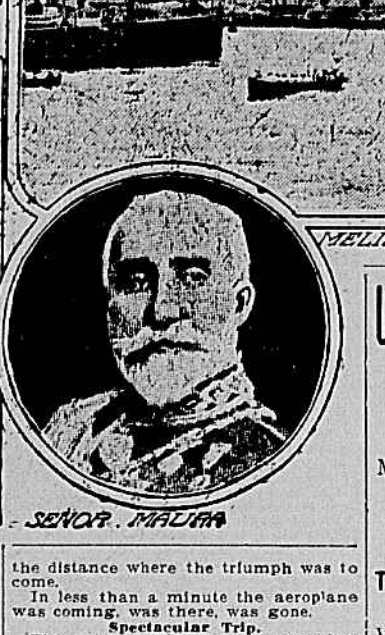

The Triumphant Return. Suddenly the speck came in sight again, over the distant hill. A cry swept over the watching crowd. "There it is!" Everybody said it and gave a sigh of relief. On it came, growing with the seconds. It grew and grew, until at last almost every detail was visible. Before you knew it, they were home again over the drill ground, flying low, at a height of perhaps twenty feet the airship swung round again to the southward, and landed easily far down the field. The task was done, and in triumph.

Embraced Both. Katherine Wright ran down the field and clasped her brother, almost hysterically, dancing with glee. She almost embraced Lieutenant Foulis, who seemed rather embarrassed by the demonstration. Wilbur was more self-controlled, though he had no secret of his elation. He with began calculations to determine the probable speed of the trip. His first estimate was forty-four miles an hour, but after he had consulted Lieutenant Foulis he figured it at forty-two and one-half miles.

Shutter's Hill. The aeroplane was easily shot at Shutter's Hill, where the army field telegraph to resume communication with Fort Myer, the airship appeared almost unexpectedly. "There it is!" screamed a keen-eyed boy.

The detail of cavalry on duty to keep back the people forgot the purpose of their presence and sat upon their horses watching. Like everybody else, the blurred dot, dark against the blazing western sky. Beyond the high promontory of Shutter's Hill the aeroplane was easily 300 feet above ground, but the trees and buildings on the hill called for a still greater altitude to clear them.

At the fantastic craft swept by Wright and Lieutenant Foulis could be distinctly seen, the former very much engrossed in the manipulation of his levers, the latter soldier in uniform, less rigid in attitude, calmly scanning the distance where the triumph was to come. In less than a minute the aeroplane was coming, was there, was gone. Spectacular Trip. The return trip was spectacular. The aviator was a single toward his companion, as if to hear more plainly something that he was saying. Foulis was pointing to some object on the horizon, while Wright looked in the direction indicated with the manner of a Kentucky colonel driving his favorite team of thoroughbreds. The simple country folk of Four-Mile Run Valley and their neighbors are talking to-night of nothing else than the queer bird that sailed today over their homes and gardens and did them no harm.

Lieutenant Foulis after the flight admitted that he had taken the risk without informing his wife, who is away from the city. Wright Get Big Sum. General James Allen, chief signal corps officer of the army, announced after the flight that the training of Lieutenants Lahm and Foulis in the operation of the aeroplane, will take place at some point where the ground is more level and is free from obstructions than at Fort Myer.

To-morrow the official board will determine the speed made today. It is agreed that the flight of forty-two miles an hour. The Wrights will, therefore, receive $30,000, including a bonus of $5,000 for their aeroplane.

MRS. LONGWORTH WILL ATKE A BALLOON TRIP

Roosevelt's Daughter Secures Consent of Husband for Cruise Through the Air. WASHINGTON, July 30.—Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, daughter of former President Roosevelt, has become an enthusiast about aeroplanes. Her attendance upon the trials of the Wrights' aeroplane is almost constant, and now it is said, is determined to make a flight herself, not in the aeroplane, though it is said she even expressed her willingness for that, but in a balloon.

A. Holland Forbes, of New York, acting president of the Aero Club of America, who is now in the city, has promised Mrs. Longworth to take her up. Mr. Longworth is said to have accorded his permission, Mr. Forbes having made the promise contingent upon her husband's consent that she undergo the risk that balloon travel involves.

Funeral of Pulliam. NEW YORK, July 30.—The funeral of Harry Pulliam, president of the National League, who shot himself on Wednesday in his room at the New York Athletic Club, will be held in Louisville, Ky., next Monday. George W. Cain, a brother-in-law, arrived today from Nashville, Tenn., to take charge of the funeral. Mr. Pulliam had been overworked, took his business seriously, and of late had been anxious to get out of the game.

Nearly Fixed O'Brien. DENVER, COLO., July 30.—Philadelphia "Jack" O'Brien, a six-round winner of the Pueblo fireman, in a six-round bout with the Auditorium tonight, O'Brien's margin was not great. In fact, Flynn finished the stronger of the two, and in the final round had O'Brien in visible distress, opening a cut over his left eye, and sending him to his corner a little unsteady.

Two Little Girls Drown. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 30.—News has been received here of the drowning at Mortimer, of two little girls, Mabel Getz and Nancy Bailey, Wednesday afternoon. USUAL SLAM AT RICHMOND PAPERS

Mann Pays Respects to Press of This City in Roanoke Speech.

TUCKER ON EASTERN SHORE

Valley Candidate Renews His Charge of Liquor Support for Opponent.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

ROANOKE, VA., July 30.—Judge William Hodges Mann addressed a large and enthusiastic crowd at the Commerce Street rink to-night. The meeting partook very much of the character of a "dry" meeting, there being a large number of women and leaders in the "dry" campaign present.

William B. Clemmer, one of the leaders in the late "dry" fray, presided and introduced E. V. Speed, who in turn introduced Judge Mann as the next Governor of Virginia. The judge made about the same speech he has been making recently. He did not mention Mr. Tucker's name, and his references to his charges were courteous. He had his usual slam at the Richmond papers, glorified the Mann bill and eulogized the old Confederates and pledged himself to fulfill promises made in the previous campaign. He also referred to his support of the child-labor bill and to the bill prohibiting drinking in trains.

He urged that the Christian people and the people of the State should support him in the coming primary. His speech was frequently interrupted by applause.

Tucker at Cape Charles.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CAPE CHARLES, VA., July 30.—Harry St. George Tucker, Democratic candidate for Governor of Virginia, addressed the voters of Northampton county at the Casino here this evening. He was introduced by Dr. George P. Moore, a prominent physician of this city. Despite the intense heat, a large crowd gathered to hear him.

Mr. Tucker spoke for about one hour. He attacked Judge Mann's record while a State Senator for not voting when a bill was before the Senate providing for a tax on whiskey sold in dining cars. He also charged that Judge Mann is being supported by the leaders of the whiskey element, and stated that if any of his audience doubted the truthfulness of this he would pay their expenses to Norfolk to prove what he said was true. The speaker said he believed the leaders of the whiskey element had been promised that in the event of Judge Mann's election their interest would not be interfered with. This, he said, was done by some glove hand, and without the knowledge of Judge Mann, but it is an assured fact, he said, that the whiskey element is not working for Judge Mann.

"The people of Virginia do not want a hand-made Governor," he said, "but one who will express his views openly and take the consequences. If the sentiment of the people of Virginia be right, then the man addressing you this evening will be your next Governor."

News of Manchester

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, 1102 Hull Street.

For some years the citizens of Oak Grove have been considering the advisability of asking the street car company for a better service. Since the company is now in new hands, and is out of the hands of receivers, the citizens feel that they are now justified in asking better accommodations.

Oak Grove is so situated that persons going to Richmond are compelled to pay 10 cents on their return trip. There are no transfers issued by the Hull Street line to the Richmond and Petersburg line, which passes through Oak Grove.

A prominent citizen of Oak Grove, in speaking of the situation, said last night: "We have been considering asking for better car service for some years, but knowing that the company is in the hands of receivers, we felt that there would be nothing done. Now that the situation is changed, we feel that we should demand some relief."

There are about 1,000 people who are affected by the schedule as it is run at this time. If a person goes to Richmond from Oak Grove he must pay a 5-cent fare, and he is entitled to a transfer on the line running into Richmond, but on the return trip he must pay the full fare, and he must generally wait for a car, which is run only once an hour.

"We want everything, but we certainly want a transfer system, which will enable us to return to our homes at the same cost as leaving them."

"There are more than 1,000 people who will be affected by any change that may be made in this connection. I believe that the company will do all in its power to relieve the situation, provided the matter is shown to it in the proper light. I do not believe that there is any suburb in the State which has as miserable car service as Oak Grove."

The company, as has been suggested, has two or three propositions in this connection, which will prove or disprove the situation. It is almost a year ago that a branch line be run to Maury Cemetery.

This could be done at a small cost to the company, and it could operate one car on a twenty-minute schedule, which would meet the demands of the people. There would be an objective point, and at the same time the people would be benefited. If this line was run over the Petersburg tracks to Clark Street, it would be a great benefit to the public would be greatly benefited. The transfer might be worked in connection with this line.

It is said that young girls living in Oak Grove, who are employed in Richmond, are subjected to a walk which would make almost any young woman give up a position rather than face the dangers she must come in contact with.

The Business Men's Association of Manchester and Chesterfield held a special meeting last night, with the doors closed. While every member of the association was asked to keep the nature of the business transaction quiet, it is stated that the meeting was held solely for the purpose of considering matters pertaining to the consolidation of Manchester and Richmond. Mad With Blood. BARCELONA, (no date) via CERBERE, FRANCE, July 30.—Barcelona has been a perfect hell. Half the population is terrorized and the other half is in a state of blood. The troops of the garrison, amid shouts of approval from the mob, repeatedly refused to fire on the people and the work of repression fell upon the police and city guards. These charged the revolutionaries and used their firearms freely everywhere, but numbers were against them. As this dispatch is sent the streets are in possession of the barricaded insurgents. The destruction of property has been great. Barcelona is completely isolated and running short of food.

MOVE THE BAR WHEN A TOWN GOES "DRY" Lines of Three Counties Meet in Hotel, So It Is Always "Wet."

KINGSTON, N. Y., July 30.—Tax commissioners here have decided to place the bar case of the Grand Hotel, in the Catskills, called to their attention. The house is situated at the junction of Ulster, Delaware and Greene counties, and the county lines meet in the center of the bar-room.

The temperance movement always flourishes in one or more of the towns in which the hotel is. To meet this contingency, whenever one town goes "dry," the mahogany bar, with brass trimmings, is moved across the room into a "wet" town. Thus far no drought has been reported at the hotel, but besides taking advantage of its unique position in excise matters, the hotel owners use the house's location as an argument with assessors of the other counties, and then pay taxes to the county whose rate is lowest.
